

Trevor Harrison

Maritime Arbitrator, Mediator and Legal Consultant

Trevor Harrison was called to the Bar over 30 years ago and now practises as a maritime arbitrator, mediator and legal consultant with particular expertise in bunkering. He was previously Principal Legal Advisor to leading bunker fuel supplier Tramp Oil & Marine. Earlier career experience included practice at the English Bar, working for a P&I club and a firm of marine consultants.

As well as arbitrating and mediating, he speaks regularly on maritime matters and dispute resolution, particularly in respect of bunkering. He wrote the module on the Sale and Purchase of Bunkers for the Lloyd's Maritime Academy Certificate in Practical Bunker Management and is Course Director for the LMA Certificate in Marine Claims.

He is a director of IBIA, a member of the Baltic Exchange, a member of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (MCIArb), a supporting member of the LMAA, a CEDR accredited mediator and on the Baltic Exchange-LMAA Mediator Panel. He was largely responsible for devising IBIA's "Rapid Resolution" fixed-cost mediation and arbitration schemes.

He is a member of IBIA's delegation to IMO's BLG and MEPC committees and has been closely involved in the revision of the MARPOL Annex VI regulations and other issues relevant to the bunker industry.
